

Catherine Ross | Senior Associate, Litigation

Dispute Resolution and Litigation Team
Cairns

P 07 4030 0508

E cross@macdonnells.com.au

Catherine is an accredited Family Law Specialist with extensive experience having worked on matters from simple dissolution applications to full Family Court appeals. Her experience includes all family law matters including matrimonial, de facto and children's matters. Catherine is experienced both in assisting parties to negotiate a resolution and also in litigation.

Catherine also practices in the areas of criminal law, employment law and wills.

Areas of Practice

- Family Law
- Criminal Law
- Workplace Health & Safety

Experience

Catherine assists parties to resolve family law issues via negotiation, mediation and when necessary, through litigation.

Catherine also represents clients in criminal matters, including traffic offences, assault charges and drug matters.

In addition, Catherine represents individuals and companies who have been charged with breaching workplace health and safety legislation, assisting them through a workplace health and safety investigation and subsequent litigation. Where there has been a death in the workplace, Catherine has also represented clients in coronial inquests.

Qualifications & Memberships

- Accredited Family Law Specialist, 2009
- Admitted as a Solicitor of Supreme Court of Queensland, 2004
- Admitted as a Solicitor of High Court of Australia, 2003
- Bachelor of Law, Macquarie University, 2002
- Admitted as a Solicitor of Supreme Court of New South Wales, 2002
- Legal Practitioner of Supreme Court of New South Wales, admitted April 2002
- Bachelor of Arts, Macquarie University, 2000

- Family Law Practitioners Association of Queensland Limited